DESERT SUNSHINE.
THE PRICE OF FLYING.
LINDBERGH GLIDES.

—By Arthur Brisbane—

HODGE, CAL., Jan. 21.—Hodge, Cal., is named for Robert and Gilbert Hodge of Buffalo, who started alfalfa ranching on the Mojave "desert," which is not a desert at all, if you dig wells near the underground Mojave river. The Santa Fe "Chief" steps obligingly to let a passenger inspect new alfalfa seedling and leave some children at a ranch where there is always sunshine.

Jeans, great British astronomer, says in his book, "The Universe Around Us," that the sun, throwing out energy, loses in actual weight 250,000,000 tons every minute. The sun weighs now 1,000,000,000 tons less than it weighed four minutes ago. That is hard to believe. But when you come into this sunshine you realize what radiation of energy the sun must send through infinite space to produce such results on our little earth. It is solid sunshine. Germs cannot live in it.

The distressing accident to a Mad-dux airplane returning from the Mexican horse races at Agua Caliente is part of the price of progress. It means one of the first improvements should be to make a plane taking fire, due to collision, impossible.

Engineering science will produce such a plane.

When railroading started in France, and an accident between Paris and Versailles killed many, it was thought that Frenchmen would ride no more. A troupe of actors, hired, sat in trains at the windows smiling, pretending to like it. Railroading was not abandoned. Flying will increase every year, and become safer than rail or motor travel.

At San Diego Lindbergh borrowed a "glider" airplane with no engine. He asked a few questions, went up alone, flew for half an hour, 500 feet up, came down and applied for a first class glider pilot license. He got it. There is only one Lindbergh, but there are a million young Americans like him. They will keep aviation going.

Property depends not on what you put away, but on what you spend. Spending is to prosperity what irrigation is to agriculture. Each is a spending record. 1500 men establish some records.

Public works scheduled by state and federal governments in labor, and raw materials, will amount to $3,325,000,000. California is proud stand third in the nation, her public works for 1930 reaching $202,000,000. New York state, with more than twice California's population, leads with $475,000,000. Ohio is second with $233,000,000. This includes only public works, no private buildings. That, also, will break records.

If you are willing to sit up late, you may hear King George on the radio, reciting a speech of welcome to the naval delegates, prepared for him by Premier Ramsay MacDonald.

This is a century of surprises. England in Queen Victoria's time could not have imagined a British workman, made prime minister, writing the king's speech and with others promoted from the ranks of labor, administering the British empire.

Consider also that the listener, in Seattle, will hear the king's words before they are heard in the back of the hall in which he speaks. Talk on the radio travels 60,000 miles, 3 1/2 times around the world, in one second. Sound through the air travels 1,100 feet.

Lloyd George thinks the brotherly love naval reduction meeting in London may wind up in a row. MacDonald talked to President Hoover about plans before the meeting in London. France, according to Lloyd George, sees in that conversation an attempt on the part of Britain and America to dictate to the rest of the world. Secretary Stimson is believed to have smoothed that over.

This country does not want to dictate to the world. It has enough to do at home. But it might well, in combination with Britain, and France, if France cares to come in, serve notice that any wars started must not interfere with neutral nations.

Britain and America do not want war. Germany has had enough of it. Russia is trying experiments that if history follows its usual course, will end in a military dictatorship by a Muscovite, or perhaps, Mongolian Napoleon. Western nations should be ready to take care of that. If it becomes a menace, Air Fleet submarines would do.

Organized Movement In Wet-Dry Battle Looms

Washington, Jan. 21.—The house "wet bloc," small but determined, today is preparing to launch the first sustained and organized movement in congress against prohibition since the eighteenth amendment was written into the constitution.

Deciding that sporadic outbursts in debate have availed little and taking the position that a definite program around which all anti-prohibitionists may rally, must be adopted, the wets are ready to take the offensive.

Harmony having been achieved by the reelection of Representative Linthicum (D) of Maryland, chairman and Mrs. Florence Kahn (R) of California, secretary, the group prepared to take three major steps.

They are:

Entire "bloc" probably to hold public hearings on prohibition, to which the best known wets of the country, including Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbiana university, will be invited to testify. Out of these hearings is to come a program for legislative action.

Executive committee to be named with authorization to seek hearings for "bloc" representatives before house judiciary or other committees considering bills, including Hoover law enforcement commission's program.

Granting of authority to executive committee to provide a new name, "Blue" new known as committee for modification of Volstead act.

Byrd Supply Ship Arrives At Base

George Morrow, who operates a radio broadcast station at Washingtonville, "talked" to the Byrd expedition this morning and was informed that the City of New York, a Byrd supply ship, had arrived after a perilous journey of 400 miles through ice.

The ship brought mail to the expedition.

The operator who signed as "Hanson" made arrangements to talk to Morrow again Wednesday morning.

Morrow also took several messages to transmit to families of the expedition in the United States.

ROAD DAMAGES MOUNT HIGHER

May Change Plans Of Lisbon-Salem Route; Make Surveys

Lisbon, Jan. 21.—Damage claims filed on the Lisbon-Salem rd. exceed $20,000.

Unless these damages are materially reduced this road will not be constructed.

This amount of money represents the cost of one mile of concrete road and the county commissioners are inclined to think that there are numerous places in the county and hundreds of people all living along these roads who have asked for new construction and it would be better to give these people a road rather than attempt to reconstruct the Lisbon-Salem rd.

Instructions were also issued today to the county surveyor's office to make additional surveys, one beginning just north of the Erie railroad crossing and swinging to the right or east and coming into or near to Franklin Square, from Franklin Square, thence to Salem. Another route suggested was from a point about one mile north of Lisbon to follow the Franklin Square rd. thence to Salem. Both of the above mentioned projects are on the program for the next few years and the commissioners feel that they could build one road serving two purposes.

Sentenced to Pen

Lisbon, Jan. 21.—Muriel Nicholson and T. E. Dolby, Wellsville, indicted by the grand jury for aiding an escape from the county jail last October entered a plea of guilty before Judge Lones this morning. They were each sentenced to serve from two to three years in the Ohio penitentiary at Columbus.

King George Of England Opens Naval Conference; Address Is Heard Over World By Radio

London, Jan. 21.—Without pomp and with little or no ceremony, George V, Great Britain's sailor king, today officially opened the London naval conference.

It was a solemn scene, for all his immediate listeners realized the historic significance of the moment as his majesty stepped up before the gold and silver microphone reserved especially for his use and began his speech, which was broadcast to the ends of the earth and was heard by millions.

The setting was the royal gallery of the house of lords, the imposing chamber used normally as an assembly room by brilliantly-robed and gowned peers and prelates preceding the state opening of the British parliament.

Today's scene had none of the color usually associated with the royal gallery. The king himself was in morning dress, and the majority of the audience were frock coated or in ordinary dark business suits.

The delegates of the five participating powers—the United States, Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy—were seated around a horseshoe table, separated at the apex for the accommodation of the throne chair on a dais.

They included the prime ministers of Great Britain, France, the foreign ministers of Great Britain, (Continued on Page 5)

Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Chalmers R. Wilson said that the new color combination was selected because of its contrast and visibility.

The plates will be manufactured at the Ohio penitentiary as in previous years.

Grade Accident In Ohio Fatal To Man

Ashville, O., Jan. 21.—Russell Hoover, 38, of Ashville, is dead and Guy Cain, 28, also of Ashville, is in a serious condition here today as the result of a crash late yesterday when the truck in which they were riding, was struck by a Norfolk and Western freight train, one-half mile north of here.

Hoover, driver of the truck, was thrown in front of the engine and was dragged for several hundred yards.

Cain declared he heard the approaching train and warned Hoover, who drove onto the tracks unheeding of Cain's protest. The injured man is expected to live, physicians said.

Lisbon, Jan. 21.—Refunds amounting to $21,734.91 and interest, representing taxes alleged to have been illegally assessed by the county in 1929 was filed in the common pleas court by the First National and the Putters' National banks, of East Liverpool, against County Treasurer Fred George.

The action in behalf of the Putters' bank which is asking a refund of $8,769.88, will be filed by Attorney Ben L. Bennett, while the First National bank suit, seeking a refund of $12,965.03, has been filed by Attorney Jason H. Brookes.

Inasmuch as suit for tax refunds must be filed within one year after payment, Monday is the deadline.

Salem Banks Will File

Other national banks, two at Salem, one at Wellsville and one at East Palestine which made tax payments on June 20, 1929, will file similar suits for refunds, it is said.

The petition of the Putters' bank which was mailed today to the clerk of court at Lisbon, sets forth that the taxes levied against every share of stock in the national banks were assessed in violation of Section 54, of the code of laws of the United States in that this stock was taxed at a greater rate than money in the hands of individual citizens; that the said taxes were in violation of the equal protection clause of the Fourteenth amendment; that said taxes were in violation of Section 2 and 3 of Article 12 of the constitution of Ohio, which regulates taxes on money, credits, investments, banks and stocks.

Cite Reasons In Case

Individuals owning money capital in building and loan associations, mortgage companies, finance companies and like corporations, the petition says, "paid less than 10 percent of the tax they would have paid had they been assessed on the same basis as the shareholders of the national banks and taxed by virtue of their ownership," and that this is "class taxation."

The petition further declares that money capital and personal property aggregating $25,000,000 were in the hands of individual citizens on May 9, 1928, and that only $8,335,000 of this amount was assessed for taxation.

Several suits for tax refunds have been filed in many parts of the state, a test case being made in one of these suits now pending at Columbus.

Banks claim that the suits are not aimed at building and loan and finance companies which have been escaping payment of this tax, but at other tax payers who have been escaping payments. The movement, they assert, is for "tax reforms to equal tax assessments."

CONSOLIDATION OF PROTESTANT CHURCH ASKED

Suggestion Made During Meeting In Ohio Capital City

Columbus, O., Jan. 21.—A worldwide consolidation of every Christian Protestant church was intimated for the first time here today, following the first day's meeting of the centennial pentecostal convention, at which the proposition was made by two Canadian pastors of the United Canadian church.

The United Canadian church, they pointed out, is represented by Methodists, Presbyterians and Congregationalists of the old alignments. The church was organized in 1923.

The proposition was made, they said, not a churchman's dream, but as a practical and desirable climax to centuries of religious effort.

The two Canadian ministers, Rev. James Pidgeon and Reverend James Endicott, spoke to an audience of 3500 pastors and laymen, who are attending the centennial.

Competition between churches, which results in useless expenditures and general inefficiency, would be abolished by the merger of the churches, they said.

More than 5,000 delegates to the four conventions which comprise the centennial, are expected to register before the close of the meeting Friday.

The celebration was arranged by the Ohio Council of Churches, and is sponsoring the eleventh annual Ohio pastors' convention, the third annual Ohio conference of church women, the second annual Ohio laymen's convention and the Ohio youth convention.

Rev. Sidney Mayer, Dr. Percy Gordon and Rev. C. F. Evans, of Salem, are attending the meeting.

Inasmuch as suit for tax refunds must be filed within one year after payment, Monday is the deadline.

Salem Banks Will File

Other national banks, two at Salem, one at Wellsville and one at East Palestine which made tax payments on June 20, 1929, will file similar suits for refunds, it is said.

The petition of the Putters' bank which was mailed today to the clerk of court at Lisbon, sets forth that the taxes levied against every share of stock in the national banks were assessed in violation of Section 54, of the code of laws of the United States in that this stock was taxed at a greater rate than money in the hands of individual citizens; that the said taxes were in violation of the equal protection clause of the Fourteenth amendment; that said taxes were in violation of Section 2 and 3 of Article 12 of the constitution of Ohio, which regulates taxes on money, credits, investments, banks and stocks.

Cite Reasons In Case

Individuals owning money capital in building and loan associations, mortgage companies, finance companies and like corporations, the petition says, "paid less than 10 percent of the tax they would have paid had they been assessed on the same basis as the shareholders of the national banks and taxed by virtue of their ownership," and that this is "class taxation."

The petition further declares that money capital and personal property aggregating $25,000,000 were in the hands of individual citizens on May 9, 1928, and that only $8,335,000 of this amount was assessed for taxation.

Several suits for tax refunds have been filed in many parts of the state, a test case being made in one of these suits now pending at Columbus.

Banks claim that the suits are not aimed at building and loan and finance companies which have been escaping payment of this tax, but at other tax payers who have been escaping payments. The movement, they assert, is for "tax reforms to equal tax assessments."

A SIGNIFICANT RULING

In the event that it is sustained the higher courts, a ruling made by Judge Hugh M. Morris, of the United States district court of Delaware is going to prove of wide importance in its consequences. In this trial John T. Callahan, a citizen of Newark, New Jersey, was charged with having been the owner of the schooner Charles Edward, which coastguards seized four miles off the coast of the Delaware Capes with a cargo of liquor valued at $200,000. Judge Morris found the defendant guilty of violating the tariff act by aiding and abetting in the importation of liquors into this country.

Callahan's attorneys argued that he could not be held guilty of the importation as he had committed no act in this country toward the importation of the liquor. They held that, while he was charged with having outfitted the schooner at Lunenburg, Nova Scotia, loaded it with the liquor and provided the crew, there was nothing to show that he actually imported the liquor on the vessel, and they made a motion that the jury be instructed to return a verdict of not guilty in favor of Callahan and the others associated with him in the enterprise.

In denying this motion, Judge Morris ruled that Callahan, even though preparations for the importation were made by him in foreign countries, was guilty if the facts in the case were as charged, and he went further by holding that any person who in any foreign country owns or outfits a vessel and loads her with goods which may not legally be imported into this country and sends her to this country with a view to the landing of the goods here is liable under the tariff law regardless of his nationality.

As a rule, the parties who have been prosecuted in cases in which rum-running vessels have been seized have been the members of the crew. It has seldom been the case that the crime has been traced to the higher-ups, although in most cases it has been manifest that the officers and crews of rum-runners have not been of the financial caliber capable of handling propositions ranging in value from ten to fifteen thousands of dollars to a quarter or half a million. In other words, the rule in such seizures has been that the hurelings, the tools, of the real interests have been apprehended and put to trial.

Here, however, is a case where the man higher up, the owner, has come to grief and is to receive punishment in addition to the loss of his vessel and its $200,000 cargo. Under the ruling every man who puts his money into such an enterprise, regardless of his nationality, is subject to prosecution, and it wouldn't stretch the essence of the ruling greatly to hold that the backer of such an enterprise, knowing the enterprise he is backing, could like wise be held guilty of a violation of the law.

If the ruling of the Delaware court is sustained, it is going to make rum-running as hazardous for the higher-ups as it has been heretofore for the men they employ to act for them in the importation of the illegal goods.

LINDBERGH'S PREDICTION

Progress in the science of aviation during 25 years has been phenomenal—especially so during the past two years. That there is to be further advancement during 1939 was the prediction of Colonel Charles Lindbergh on his recent visit to St. Louis and the pace of advancement, he maintains, will be far more rapid than ever before.

Colonel Lindbergh speaks with reference to a matter with which he is acutely and wholly familiar. He sees newer, better, safer planes serving the interests of the immediate future. He sees the United States functioning in aerial equality with the most advanced of European countries. Of commercial aviation he affirms that it is no longer an experiment, but an accomplished fact of increasing material importance, the development of American air transport passenger lines more than satisfactory.

Colonel Lindbergh is an authority in respect of aviation. His name will be forever identified with its major accomplishments. That we are to wing onward to vaster achievements well may be believed when he assures such prediction. Myrd and Wilkins at the southern pole, through the use of this machine have been enabled to do within short compass what otherwise could not have been done at all, or only after the passage of a long period of time and under circumstances of almost inconceivable hazard and danger, and already the soaring machines of the air have linked continents and peoples in closer relation.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

CHECKING BRIGHT'S DISEASE

The kidneys perform an important function. Through them pass nearly one-half of all the waste products of the body. Since the waste materials of the system, especially those which go through the kidneys, are poisons, it is very necessary that there should be no interruption to their passage.

In nephritis, or Bright's disease as it is commonly called, there is inflammation of the kidneys and their function is disturbed. The kidneys cannot take care of the waste products. The chief variety of food we eat is called protein. For instance, I can meats and white of eggs are protein foods. The main waste materials resulting from digestion of the proteins are nitrogen and nitrogen compounds. These are eliminated largely through the kidneys; they are the urea, uric acid and ammonia.

In checking this disease, there must be reduction of foods rich in nitrogen. At the same time, the patient must regulate his daily life that he will need the least amount of protein food. This will mean placing a limitation on his daily physical exertion so there will not be a demand for such food.

The chief nitrogenous output of the kidneys is urea. About an ounce of this waste substance is voided each day. The more meat taken the more urea will be developed. These nitrogenous substances are not handled properly by the kidneys in Bright's disease. When the kidneys do not function properly the waste products accumulate in the body and act as poisons.

There must be sensible control of the food intake and measures to make the skin more active. In acute nephritis milk may be the only safe food to take. Even this may be found to be too rich in protein. Water should be taken freely, and to this may be added sugar cereals, cereal, and possibly bread. Butter, milk and oatmeal water may be useful.

In the first stages of the disease milk will supply all the nourishment needed if it is well borne. In the progress of the disease, vegetables may be added, and later on, perhaps a limited amount of meat. The bowels must be kept open and the kidneys active. Frequent baths, gentle exercise, a warm climate, and mental peace are all helpful. With proper care and diet begun early in the disease the patient may count on a long and useful life.

Communists Raid Mexican Embassy

Rio de Janeiro, Jan. 21.—Over a hundred alleged Communists were arrested today following a raid before the Mexican embassy here, during which 60 Communists stoned the embassy, breaking windows and injuring the embassy chauffeur.

The demonstrators distributed pamphlets declaring "the Mexican government has been sold to the clergy and American imperialism, which has started a strong fascist reaction against American workers."

Twenty-five Mexican workers have been arrested. Brazilian Communists can not calmly regard this murderous campaign.

The Brazilian foreign office today presented its regrets to the Mexican charge d'affaires.

It was stated that all foreign Communists involved in the affair will be deported.

Internal Debt Of Soviet Increases

Moscow, Jan. 21.—The internal debt of the Soviet Union has increased 100 per cent in the last year. It now totals 2,547,000,000 rubles (nominally $1,273,500,000) as against $650,000,000 last year. The annual interest and amortization bill on this debt is about half a million rubles, which ought to be charged against state-owned industry because most of the money was borrowed for capital construction.

Individuals hold 60 per cent of the loan bonds, and co-operative societies and corporations the remainder. Peasants, who comprise 85 per cent of the population, have subscribed only 3 rubles per capita, while the urban residents hold 10 times as much. The loans are placed by deducting one month's pay from workers and employees.

COLD MEANS NOTHING TO OLD "SEA DOG"

Men of the sea can't coddle their colds. They catch them, but get rid of them in a jiffy. So can you—and without "doping"—with a simple compound that just knocks out all that arch, feverish feeling of that watery-eyed, sore-nosed condition that always makes a person feel so thoroughly miserable.

Next time exposure to wet and cold has set you to sniffing, take Pope's Cold Compound. Simple little tablets, but how they kill a cold! Pope's Cold Compound is only 35c.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

Too elegant for use, sighed the old-fashioned housekeeper, viewing the exhibition. Not a broom, scrub brush, or mop in sight—just a succession of cloths and cloths and cloths. Beautifully fitted window, furnished with some potted plants, and the composition flooring had a look of marble and the feel of carpet.

The last word in modern kitchens may look unused, but the fact is that perfect equipment makes for easy care. Beautiful composition floors are kept clean by a few minutes' application of a long-handled mop. Oil-cloth covered walls are kept looking brand-new by occasional wiping with a damp cloth.

But mainly, the spick-and-span appearance of a modern kitchen is due to the new vogue of cloths for everything. It's so easy otherwise for a kitchen to look untidy. So many different kinds of cloths are used, of different shapes, materials, colors. No matter how regular their placing, if all the pots and pans, brushes and brooms, mixers and beaters, are on exposed hooks or shelves, the general appearance of the kitchen is bound to be somewhat cluttered. Being scrupulously diligent in hanging and placing everything exactly as it is intended does help, to be sure, but what an expenditure of time and energy. And the result is less than perfect anyway.

Closet shelves and closets automatically preserve the neat appearance of a kitchen. And if well chosen to accommodate the articles regularly in use, they not only beautify the kitchen, but also add to its convenience. They keep articles within easy reach, dust-free, and if compactly arranged, it is possible to make a very small kitchen not only as convenient as a big one, but much better. The smaller the kitchen, the less one has to walk about preparing meals and washing up, and it's these thousands of needless steps to and fro in a roomy kitchen that make the home woman tired.

Kitchen closets can be obtained in all sizes and for all purposes either singly or in a combination of units. One of the most attractive combinations consists of a kitchen cabinet with big roomy shelves and closet space, flanked on either side by the exhibition. Not a broom, scrub brush, or mop in sight—just a succession of cloths and cloths and cloths. Konjola Puts Rheumatism To Speedy Rout

Three Years of Suffering Ended Quickly By New and Different Medicine

Mrs. Emma Perry

"It is hard for me to believe that any one medicine could do what Konjola did for me," says Mrs. Emma Perry, Brookville, Ind., who found in this modern medicine of 32 ingredients—23 of them the juices of roots and herbs—the very medicine she needed.

"For three years I endured tortures from rheumatism, kidney and stomach trouble. My ankles and left knee were swollen to twice their normal size. Every night I had to get up four or five times. I had smothering attacks and dizzy spells. I was in a terrible condition when I started taking Konjola. But just three bottles of this remarkable medicine made a new person of me. I eat, sleep and feel like I did three years ago, and never shall I cease to praise Konjola, the medicine that made this new and glorious health possible."

Konjola is sold in Salem at J. H. Lease (Mr. Kaminsky) Drug store and by all the leading druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

King George Kept On Air By Heroism Of Studio Aide

New York, Jan. 31.—The lad who plugged up the dikes of Holland with his body was parodied today in a modern epic of heroism.

Harold Vivian, chief control operator for the Columbia Broadcasting system is the lad. He held two broken ends of a high voltage electric wire in his hands so that the world could listen to the radio broadcast of King George's speech at the opening of the naval conference in London.

A second before the historic address by the king was to begin a member of the control room staff stumbled over the wire leading from the switchboard to the generator. The wires parted and the entire network went "dumb."

KING GEORGE

France and Italy, the secretary of state of the United States, naval ministers of all five powers and a half a dozen ambassadors.

The king entered the house of lords by Norman porch and proceeded by the grand staircase to the robing room. When he stepped across the threshold from the robing room into the royal gallery all those attending the opening session rose in their places. He then walked down the center of the gallery, between several rows of spectators on either side and took his seat on the throne chair.

Standing directly beneath a huge oil painting depicting the death of Nelson at Trafalgar, his majesty delivered the opening address of welcome.

The king expressed his sincere satisfaction over welcoming in person the delegates of five powers assembled with the object of "eliminating the evil results of wasteful competition in naval armaments."

"Every nation here is proud of its navy," Britain's "baler king" declared, "and proud of that navy's past achievements and inspiring traditions."

"Since the great war all peoples have determined that human statecraft shall leave nothing undone to prevent a repetition of that grim and immense tragedy."

One of the most important columns in the edifice of peace, the king declared, is "limitation of naval strength and reduction to a point consistent with national security."

Immediately after the delivery of his address, the king retired. The dais and throne chair were removed, the gap in the horseshoe table filled by the insertion of another table and Premier Ramsay MacDonald took his place at the center of the table. During the king's speech, the premier had sat behind and to the right of His Majesty.

The premier then delivered his opening address.

Bootleggers' Phones Form Court Subject

Washington, Jan. 31.—The prohibition bureau will not compel telephone companies to reveal the location of telephones used by persons suspected of being bootleggers even though the U. S. district court in San Francisco, Cal., may decide such action by the government is legal. Dr. James M. Doran, prohibition commissioner, announced today.

The case of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, testing the legality of the demand of San Francisco dry agents that it reveal its list of suspected bootleggers' telephones is being watched closely by Doran. He said it was a matter merely involving San Francisco and should the court decide in favor of the dry agents he will not declare the new authority a national policy.

"SIDE STREET" At The Grand

It takes a nifty New York policeman, and a hail of machine gun bullets to break up Gotham's most powerful underworld gang in "Side Street" the new, all-talking Picture at the Grand.

Tom, Owen and M. Moore, featured in the new production, make their first joint appearance in this drama of New York family life, with its background of politics, politicians, policemen and racketeers.

Tom is promoted from traffic to the plain clothes squad and charged with the assignment of apprehending one Barney Miller, notorious underworld baron, portrayed by Owen Moore, in reality the officer's own brother. Matt Moore enacts the role of a police surgeon, a third brother.

Kathryn Perry, former Polles beauty, now the wife of Owen Moore, is cast as Tom's sweetheart in "Side Street" and secures the information that eventually leads to the breaking up of the gang. Frank Sheridan and Emma Dunn, who have the father and mother roles are noted character actors. Walter McNamara and Heinie Conklin carry the comedy parts.

"IN THE HEADLINES" At the State

Those who have wondered how newspapers get the lowdown on murder mysteries, many times even before the police, need only witness "In the Headlines." Warner Bros. new all-talking picture of modern journalism which is at the State, to see the press machinery in operation.

"In the Headlines" depicts a newspaper's activity in running down a story, after it was the first to hit upon a clue to a baffling double murder mystery.

Grant Withers enacts the role of an egotistical star reporter whose tenacity is instrumental in bringing about the solution of the enigma. Marian Nixon in the feminine lead as a cub reporter is responsible for some startling revelations on the case. Edmund Breese as the city editor is the man behind the power of the paper. Delightful comedy lightens the story.

Kentucky Man On Trial In Murder

Covington, Ky. Jan. 21.—The second day of the trial of Arthur Appel, 27, of Covington, charged with willful murder in connection with the shooting of his father, George Appel, 64, was begun here today before Judge Leslie T. Applegate.

Appel is charged with having shot his father seven times with a small calibre revolver on July 8, 1929, here. Ill feeling, which is believed to have existed between the father and son, is said to have been the motive for the killing.

Mrs. Albert Krohman, in front of whose house the shooting occurred, was an eye witness to the tragedy. She testified as state's witness at the opening of the trial yesterday.

CLASS A TITULAR BATTLE SLATED AT MEMORIAL GYM TONIGHT

Electric Furnace Will Meet Golden Eagle In Championship Contest

Proclaimed the two best basketball teams in the city Class A league by virtue of their successful league records, the Golden Eagle and Electric Furnace all-star combinations clash in the first half's most important game at the Memorial gym tonight.

The Electric Furnace quintet has passed through its schedule with six victories in as many starts and will close its first half participation in the circuit with tonight's game. The Golden Eagle has annexed five straight decisions and after tonight's battle is over will face the Art Jewellers in another important clash, Thursday night.

The game is held to start promptly at 7:45 with Ray Reagor handling the whistle. The McArthur Florists, now involved in a tie with the Art Jewellers for second place, meet the Prints Klub in the second game at 8:30 while the Salem China and Trinity Lutherans are scheduled to meet in a Class B game at 7 o'clock.

Vogeli, Older to Clash
The league's leading point-makers, Harry Vogeli, captain of the furnace, and Les Older, Golden Eagle star, will be facing each other in the main game. Older, with 62 points in five games, tops the league scoring while Vogeli is in second position with 51 points. The entire Golden Eagle personnel is composed of basket-sharks, totalling 207 points, in the team's five games, to 79 for the opposition. The Birds are the only outfit in the loop to pass the 200-mark in scoring, the furnace being the only one of the remaining sextet which has passed the 150-mark.

The furnace makers have run up a total of 151 points to 108 by adversaries and have both a weaker offensive and defensive than the Birds, points which are bound to play prominent roles in tonight's crucial event.

Third in point-scoring is Bob Cope, Golden Eagle center, who has tallied 48 points. Max Caplan, the Birds' plump forward, is fourth with 41 points. Andy Hann, scoring ace of the Art Jewellers, whom the Birds will buck up against Thursday, claims fifth honors, having scored an even 40 points. No other players in the league have passed the 30-mark. Lowell Allen, star Eagle guard who has so far been concentrating on defensive play, having scored 30 points and is in sixth position in scoring.

Joe Kelley, who pulled the game out of the fire for the merchants last week after they were being outclassed by the United Cigars, has tallied only 16 points but is being used for the most part only for emergency purposes. Forrest Coy, Golden Eagle guard, has scored 11 points but hasn't played in all his team's games.

Leading Furnace Scorers
Vogeli, Jess "Stretch" Hayes, and Lynn Ferguson are the leading furnace point-makers. Hayes has tallied 26 points and Ferguson 21. Other furnace players in the scoring are: Diser and Matticks, each 16; Siding 15; Ritchie 4; Miller 2.

The teams will lineup for the first game tonight as follows:
Golden Eagle: Forwards, Caplan and Kelley; center, Cope; guards, Allen and Older. Electric Furnace: Matticks and Miller, forwards; Hayes, center; Ferguson and Vogeli, guards.

The Florists should take the Klub team without difficulty in the third game on the program and advance into a higher place in the standings. To-date Perry McArthur's hirelings haven't lived up to expectations and have scored 98 points to 100 by opponents and is the lowest scoring team in the loop.

Boxing Commission Refuses Shires As Referee In Prelim

Cleveland, Jan. 21.—Arthur (The Great) Shires, White Sox first baseman, who attempted to batter his way into the boxing world, but was stopped by the high moguls of baseballdom, is not even wanted in Cleveland as a fight referee.

Ed Barry, chairman of the Cleveland boxing commission, made that plain when promoters of the Ray Campbell benefit fight show here, tried to slip Shires in as a referee of one of the preliminary, last night.

"This isn't a comedy show," Barry blurted. "We're having birds in the ring tonight who know a boxing glove from a load of hay."

So, Shires was reached at his home in Chicago by telegram and told he "didn't need to bother."

Bearcats Assured Tie For Buckeye Title As First Half Nears End

Columbus, O., Jan. 21.—With the end of the first half of the 1930 basketball season rapidly approaching, Cincinnati and Wooster are being proclaimed as the best quintets in the state and the leading contenders of their respective leagues, the Buckeye and Ohio conferences.

The Cincinnati Bearcats, under the tutelage of Coach Frank Rice, seemed destined to win or share the Buckeye title for the fifth consecutive time. With two wins to their credit, the Queen City five turned back Miami at Oxford Saturday night to win its third consecutive victory, by a 30-27 score. Cincinnati is the only undefeated team in the league.

Ohio Wesleyan and Wittenberg have only one set-back to their discredit. Both teams were victorious in their week-end games. The Bishops decisively defeated Denison, 47 to 26, Saturday night, and the Lutherans sprang a surprise by whipping the highly-touted Ohio Bobcats, 31 to 19, Friday night.

By Saturday night, Cincinnati will have faced every team in the conference. The Bearcats are scheduled to meet Wittenberg tonight and Ohio university Saturday. They will be fairly sure of the championship if they can trounce both of their opponents this week.

Wooster Trounces Otterbein
Wooster further proved itself the outstanding team of the Ohio conference Saturday night when the greatest Wooster outfit in years ran up the highest score of a decade against Otterbein. The Wooster forwards scored a total of 83 points to 23 for the United Lutherans. It was Wooster's fourth Ohio conference win in as many starts.

Dayton and Heidelberg are also undefeated this season, although the Flyers have only one conference game under their belt and the Student Princes have only two. Dayton won its initial conference victory Saturday over St. Xavier after two thrilling over-time periods.

Capital doaned Ohio Northern, 33-22, in one of the season's upsets, when Bridewiser, star forward, went into the game, with a broken hand at the last minute to put his team in the lead.

Kenyon Trimmed

In other conference games Saturday night, Hiram beat Case, 41 to 37. Muskingum won its third victory over Kenyon, 36 to 22, and Oberlin copped its first from Western Reserve.

Buckeye conference championship standing:

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

"Why can't you serve meat the second time just like the first?" demanded the young housekeeper. "There's no use my making hash out of a left-over roast—Jack won't eat what he calls chop-suey dishes."

This accepted rule of changing leftover meat into a new kind of dish isn't merely for the purpose of deceiving the family. The fact is that a roast cannot be reheated and taste as it did on its first appearance. A fresh hot leg of lamb, beef, or roast chicken has a certain fine flavor which is developed during this first cooking and can be enjoyed only on its first service. That particular flavor is gone when the meat cools off. It cannot be recaptured by a second heating in the same way. Indeed a second similar heating, as in the case of lamb or beef, does anything but improve the flavor.

There are two ways in which to enjoy left-overs. One is to serve the meat cold sliced, accompanied by a peppery salad or dressing. Some meats taste even better cold than hot to some persons—cold lamb and cold turkey, for instance, have a different flavor when cold and a flavor that may be preferred to the hot meat. Neatly sliced beef, lamb, veal or fowl, garnished with olives, pickles, slices of sausage and a mound of mixed vegetable salad provide an enjoyable Sunday night supper, or a luncheon, and are easy to prepare. This method of serving left-over meats also dispenses of the objection of those suspicious persons who imply won't eat what they call a "made dish." Which prejudice bars them from the enjoyment of some of the most tasty foods which an ingenious cook can originate.

Because many left-overs are best when completely camouflaged—lamb, chicken, veal can be cooked into dishes unrecognizable as meat, to the eye, but more delightful to the palate. A soufflé, for one thing.

Meat Soufflé.

1 cup diced meat or chicken.

1 tablespoon butter.

1 tablespoon flour.

1 tablespoon onion juice.

1/2 teaspoon chopped parsley.

1/2 teaspoon salt.

1/2 teaspoon pepper.

1 cup milk.

Heat the butter in a saucepan.

add flour and gradually the milk, stirring constantly until smooth and thick, then add salt, pepper, onion juice and parsley, and remove from the fire. Add beaten egg yolks and the meat cook for one minute, then remove from fire to cool. When cooled add the stiffly beaten egg-whites, pour into a greased casserole and bake in a moderate oven twenty minutes. It will puff up and be beautifully brown on top, but it must be served immediately, as it falls soon after removal from the oven.

Left-over meat may be combined with other seasonings to make a thick sauce for service with spaghetti, rice, mashed potatoes. This should be cooked and shaped in a ring mould, so that the meat sauce can be poured in the center for attractive service.

Meat Sauce, Thick.

2 cups diced meat or chicken.

2 tablespoons butter.

3 tablespoons flour.

1 onion.

1 cup tomato juice.

When a Child is FEVERISH, CROSS, UPSET

Colic, gas, sour belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, in babies and children, generally show food is souring in the little digestive tract.

When these symptoms appear, give Baby a teaspoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. Add it to the first bottle of food in the morning.

Older children should be given a tablespoonful in a glass of water.

This will comfort the child—make his stomach and bowels easy. In five minutes he is comfortable, happy. It will sweep the bowels free of all sour, indigestible food. It opens the bowels in constipation.

DOCTORS SAY THIS IS BEST KIND OF BRAN

93% of Group of Physicians Favor Natural 100% Bran for Constipation

Ten thousand doctors were recently asked this question:

"Do you believe that raw natural 100% bran is the best form of bran for the relief of constipation?"

93% of the answers were "Yes."

Here is expert advice for the relief of one of the worst troubles of modern life. Pillsbury's Bran is natural 100% bran, nothing added, nothing taken away. The overwhelming opinion of these doctors recommends Pillsbury's Bran as the best kind for the relief of chronic constipation—irregularity which results from bowel sluggishness.

Don't trifle with constipation. Medical science says that 90% of modern city people are more or less affected. Headaches, loss of vitality, sallow cheeks, nervousness, sleeplessness, and increased susceptibility to serious diseases—these are the dangers. Add roughage to your diet—it protects primitive man, and it will protect you.

Pillsbury's Bran is the best form—it gives you the full, gentle, natural laxative action of the unbroken flakes of pure bran. You can use it to prepare any number of delicious foods—muffins, tea cakes, apple cake, macaroons, doughnuts, etc.—the recipes are on the Pillsbury package. You can sprinkle it over salads, or mix it with cereals. You can eat it as it comes from the package, with cream and sugar. No matter how you take it, you may be sure Pillsbury's Bran will do the work—it is natural 100% bran, the kind that doctors recommend.

Be moderate AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Fashion revels in the soft, enchanting curves of the modern figure. Don't sacrifice that graceful contour by permitting your eyes to be bigger than your stomach. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. Eat healthfully but not immoderately. When tempted to treat yourself too well, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, light a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the modern, alluringly-rounded figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

*Be Moderate!... Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.
